About Oak

Oak is a specialist fund, corporate and private client services provider, with a heritage dating back to 1999, privately owned by Opera.

Oak is privately owned by Opera Limited, a new holding company backed by Pula, the family office of Stephen Lansdown, co-founder of Hargreaves Lansdown, along with like-minded shareholders such as Sealyham, the family office of Tom Scott.

Opera, which stands for O for Oak, P for Pula, and E-R-A for a new era in financial services, reflects the company's vision of transformation and excellence. With a focus on people, process, technology, and data, and a commitment to embracing innovation to meet the needs of an evolving global market, Opera aims to become a world-class portfolio of businesses renowned for exceptional client service and employee experience.

At the heart of this transformation is Project Overture, Opera's five-year strategic plan focused on three key areas: platform optimisation, organic growth, and inorganic growth. By 2029, Opera will have a significantly larger portfolio of businesses, expanded its geographic reach, and accelerated revenue and value growth, all while maintaining a client-first ethos.

"Pula", the name of Stephen Lansdown's family office, carries a unique and fitting meaning. In Setswana, the language of Botswana, Pula means "rain"—a precious and rare resource in the Kalahari Desert, symbolising value and prosperity. It is also the name of Botswana's currency, reinforcing the idea of stability, growth, and long-term investment. Just as rain nurtures and sustains life, Pula's investment is about fostering sustainable, thoughtful growth, ensuring resources are in place to build something truly world-class.

At Oak, we have a 'client-first' mentality. We provide exceptional, personalised client service, fostering lasting relationships built on trust, integrity and expertise.

Located in four jurisdictions with more than 230 employees, we strive to create an environment where our people are cared for, enabled, empowered, and supported to provide exceptional financial solutions.

With our collaborative approach, we strive to create long-term value for our clients, while maintaining the highest standards of conduct.

We prioritise the continuous growth and development of our people, recognising that their success is the foundation of our excellent service and our shared prosperity. ESG is something we take very seriously; it is at the centre of everything we do.

Oak has strategically positioned offices in jurisdictions which are seen as a gold standard in the provision of fiduciary services in the international markets.

Ultimately, the choice of jurisdiction will come down to individual circumstances, legal/tax requirements, jurisdictional benefits for certain activities, and personal preference. We recommend independent tax guidance to help our clients choose the right jurisdiction and structuring for them.
